

Miniature Pinschers of Quality Color

Some of the Miniature Pinscher's colors are not suitable for the AKC or UKC show rings. This is the case with the Blue and Fawn colors. Because so many breeders breed dogs of the same color together to reproduce the color desired, the colors are not standard for the show rings. In an example if a breeder breeds a Blue Female to a Blue Male, they will obviously give birth to Blue Puppies. THIS IS NOT AN ACCEPTABLE PRACTICE.

When viewing puppies for sale, you should always ask to see not only the mother of the puppies, but you should see the father of the puppies. At the least, you should see pictures of the parents. If both of the parents are a dilute color, the puppies will have an inherent Mange problem when they get older.